

D'Arts Fest 2008 is about more than just art. People attending the September 27th, all day Downtown event can experience Husker football on a twelve-foot screen.

That's not a typo. Fans can prepare for the game by watching Husker highlights on a twelve-foot screen leading up to the 7:00 p.m. match-up between the Cornhuskers and Virginia Tech. The Beer Garden located at the Third & Norfolk Ave. parking lot will play host to this Husker Tailgate Party on Saturday afternoon that is sponsored by 94 Rock.

For fans that can't make it to the big game on Saturday, this is the next best thing. Simon Networks, the newest business to open in Downtown Norfolk, is announcing their arrival by providing this bigger-than-life Huskerfest. Simon Networks provides affordable high speed internet and has already made wireless access available throughout Downtown Norfolk.
